October Fall Greetings!

A Word from our President

Dear Members,

Your Board of Directors is always looking for ways to improve your experience at our luncheon meetings. We are in the process of streamlining our reservation and check in process to ensure a swift and effortless experience.

We need your assistance! Please RSVP by the deadline date. Please notify us if you must cancel. If, for some reason, you are unable to attend after making a reservation, please send us your luncheon fee. Our organization is in great financial health and we would like to make sure that we stay that way in order to be able to assist our chosen Not-For-Profits.

Thank you for your anticipated cooperation!

Sincerely,
Judy Jankowski, President

October Meeting

Thanks to Genelle King, founder of King Communication Resources, for the great message on Networking Etiquette at our October meeting. She offered us some insightful ideas on how to enhance our credibility and professional presence in work and social related settings.

November Meeting

Tick-Tock-Tick-Tock! The time is changing, the leaves are changing, and the temperature is changing! However the WBOM mission and our warm welcome to you will not change!

Plan to attend the November 10th WBOM luncheon at Ruth's Chris Steak House in Granger. We are excited to have as our speaker, Kara McClure. Her topic is Reading Others: A Key Business Skill. Knowing your products and services is a basic requirement in order to do business. However, our ability to develop rapport quickly and maintain customer relationships over time is a critical "must do" if we intend to be successful. This presentation will introduce us to some quick tips about reading our customers' styles and specific ways to adjust your speech and behaviors to increase retention.
