September Meeting

Fifty-eight members and guests enjoyed lunch at the September 8th meeting. Thank you to our September speaker, Shelly Moore from Insight Strategic Concepts, Inc, whose presentation "Knowing People Starts with Knowing Yourself" helped us to get a better handle on human resource issues.

Shelley Moore presented a topic that is relevant to ourselves, our employees, and ultimately how we interact with our clients. She told us that "Management" of ourselves and others is impossible without understanding how we each operate. She gave us tools on how successful leaders are self-aware and they empower people to understand and manage themselves. She showed us that individually we find true growth and fulfillment by becoming accomplished in implementing accountability systems for self-management. She taught us that these practices should start with you and then be expanded to others.

If you are interested in getting a copy of the Power Point presentation or learning more about how to learn about yourself and how to evaluate others to find out best practices to interact with them, please visit Shelly's website at: www.insightsc.com.
